Cabinet in Session Gov. Shaw Treasurer.

Washington, Dec. 24.—A short session of the cabinet was held today. No business of importance was transacted. The President made no official mention of tendering the treasury portfolio to Governor Shaw, of Iowa, but after the cabinet meeting he talked the matter over with Secretary Wilson. It is thought that in the event of Gov. Shaw accepting, Secretary Wilson, coming from the state of Iowa, would retire, but the President thinks Secretary Wilson pleases the farmers and today requested that he remain. Governor Shaw will arrive in Washington during the night and see the President in the morning, even though it is Christmas day.

Was Disguised As a Negro.

Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 24.—Sheriff A. J. Henry, of Sioux County has under arrest, a mysterious man who was found badly frozen in a straw stack near Orange City, where he has been living secretly for nearly three weeks.

He seemed at first to be a negro, but in caring for him, one of his rescuers rubbed off a bit of the coloring. Immediately suspicion was aroused and then a liberal application of soft water and soap removed a coating of stove polish and revealed a skin that was as fair as any white man's.

The man is a Polander, about 46 years of age; he gave his name as Fred Krichlick, but refused to say anything about his former place of residence or offer any explanation of his peculiar conduct. He seems sane, and the officers believe that he is trying to evade punishment for some crime elsewhere. He is being held pending a vigorous investigation. Krichlick is known to have been around Orange City for nearly three weeks.

Surgeon's Knife for Alger.

Detroit, Dec. 24.—General Russell A. Alger is again a very sick man. He is suffering excruciating pain from a return of his old trouble, gallstones, and unless his condition improves by tomorrow night an operation will be performed. This decision was reached today after his physician, Dr. C. G. Jennings, had called in Drs. H. W. Longyear and H. G. Walker for consultation. While not necessarily dangerous, there is probably no illness more painful than that with which General Alger is now afflicted.

Big Fire Threatened.

Coneville, Pa., Dec. 24.—A big fire this afternoon threatens the entire city. A brisk wind fans the flames. Whole square gone and others ablaze. At 6 p. m. it was gotten under control.

Fourteen Million Dividend.

Cape Town, Dec. 24.—The DeBeers Mining company of Kimberly, has declared a dividend of fourteen million dollars. The mine produced thirty-four millions during the year just closed. Its life is estimated to be one hundred and forty-four years.

Presents For Lipton.

London, Dec. 24.—Sir Thomas Lipton today received from his American friends, who were with him on the yacht Erin, during the races, a magnificent punch bowl and stand. Sir Thomas was highly delighted and called back very glowing thanks. He also received from King Edward a splendid cigarette case with the royal monogram on it, an exact duplicate of the one the king himself uses.

Letter for Statehood

Judge G. W. Woy of Mesa, has received a letter from Henry M. Teller, of Colorado, in which the senator says that he will work and vote for the admission of Arizona to the sisterhood of states. The senator says:

"You can tell the people of Arizona that they can count on me to support the statehood measure whenever it comes before the senate."—Phoenix Gazette.

The Christmas Crowds.

For the past few days the stores along Main street and Brewery avenue have been crowded, and the many extra clerks have had their hands full in waiting on the people. The rush has been a steady one from early morning until late at night, and there has been presents enough for all.

"This is the best Christmas we have had since I have been in Bisbee," said a prominent Main street merchant to a REVIEW reporter yesterday, "as the town grows so does all business continue to grow and we will not carry over any stock as has been our custom, we are nearly all sold out now and that counts for a good Christmas trade, don't it?"

The post office was crowded all day long with people receiving and sending bundles and packages.

WAIT, COMING SURE!

A good many people have been too poor to marry, and how any one can be too rich to marry may seem an impossibility, but how such conditions are possible, can be seen in the picture comedy, "Too Rich To Marry," coming to the Opera House Sunday, Dec. 29.

Christmas Times

Let Joy Be Free

The Christmas holidays are even welcome, and to all classes they bring some incident of pleasure. It is a custom, long established, to make the holiday season a season for special remembrance of friends, both young and old, but more especially to the young. The youngsters for weeks look forward to the coming of the mythical Santa Claus, and few people are so poor that they are unable to find something to gladden the innocent hearts of their trusting and hopeful children. The various churches make Christmas time a season of special services and the story of Joseph and Mary and the Lord babe in the manger is recounted from every pulpit.

The custom of giving Christmas presents has often been condemned, but to our mind without good reason. It may be set down as a general proposition that the spending of money is good. It is good in many ways; from a point of economics as well as in a purely sentimental respect. The money a person spends will put purchasing power into the hands of another and in time the other person will put the money where it will find its way at last back into the original pockets. And so to spend a dollar at Christmas times serves two good purposes; it makes business brisk and it purchases for someone a dollar's worth of happiness.

There is hardly anyone who has not a little money to spend and what better way is there than purchasing holiday gifts for friends. No one was ever the worse for giving or receiving a Christmas present, but millions have been made happy by the simple practice. The gifts themselves may not count for much, but they are tokens of remembrance and love and there is no one who is not made happy by being remembered—and loved.

It is seldom that there has been a holiday season with such favorable conditions for general merriment as the one just beginning. There has been a period of prosperous years which has made comfortable conditions among all classes and there are few, at least, in this part of the world, who have not the wherewithal to provide a little extra cheer at their firesides in honor of Christmastide.

The conditions in Bisbee were never better for a happy Christmas time. During the year labor has been abundant and at good wages. There has never before been such business activity in Bisbee. The advertising columns of the REVIEW have been crowded for weeks. Nearly every merchant has used extra space in making a generous bid for patronage.

The REVIEW extends its best wishes to all this Christmas morning and wishes every resident of Bisbee a merry Christmas.

Philippine no Country for Americans.

Charles Anson, who enlisted two years ago at Ft. Huachuca as a packer in the army, has just returned from Manila and was telling his experiences in that country when a reporter of the REVIEW met him.

"The Philippines are no fit place for Americans," said Mr. Anson, "and I am glad to get back to Arizona. The packers were fairly well treated, but the privates in the army are not half fed and clothed and the hospitals are crowded with sick men. The school teachers are escorted to school every day by a squad of soldiers through the different parts of Manila. Yes, they have Aguinaldo in jail, but then that counts for little, there are just as many who hold sway in the islands as have been captured and it will take a long time to subdue the country. The natives are the most treacherous people on earth. They come in and surrender their arms, swear allegiance to the United States and the words are hardly out of their mouths before attempting the life of some of the soldiers. The only way to fix them is to kill them all off, spare none. That is the only way we will ever subdue those savages."

Christmas Gifts to Railroaders.

Conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen on the Santa Fe are to be given clear records as New Year's gifts. The Brown system of discipline has been in operation on the Santa Fe system for several years. Under this system an employee, instead of being suspended without pay for violation of the rules, is given a certain number of demerit marks for each offense. When 100 demerit marks have been accumulated against an employee he is discharged. Inasmuch as this system has not been observed uniformly on all parts of the Santa Fe system, the management has decided to wipe off all demerit marks, except in the cases of men who have sixty or more marks against them. The idea is to start afresh with the Brown system January 1, and enforce it in equal manner on all of the Santa Fe lines.

Maclay Weakens Will Tender Resignation

New York, Dec. 24.—According to a World extra this morning Maclay gives up the fight. When the President, through Secretary Long, ordered him to resign, this author of a history, of the U. S. navy, pre-emptorily declined, saying under the civil service rules the President had no right to throw him down. Today, however, he had a change of heart. He says: "If the President's order is paramount to the civil service rules, it knocks out the prop upon which I am resting." He will probably resign tomorrow.

THE SHANNON MINES.

The Annual Report to Shareholders Shows Most Satisfactory Conditions.

The Shannon Copper company has just issued its regular yearly statement for quarter ending October 31, prepared for the regular meeting of the stockholders, which was held on the 27th of November. From the report of the treasurer it is learned that during the year the company paid $1,003,850 for mines, and $240,074.85 for mine development and smelter construction. The treasurer has on hand 9,097 shares of treasury stock and $306,202.39 in cash and bills payable. The following are extracts from President Carter's report: "The company now controls 35 claims and fractions, consisting of over 600 acres. During the year ending October 31, 1901, the Shannon Copper company ran 5,129 lineal feet of development work, for the year ending October 31, 1901, 8,614 feet. The development work for the year has been more than satisfactory in opening up large ore bodies, giving ore in sight sufficient to keep the present plant in operation for many years. The ore on the lower levels is of a better grade than the surface ores. The property can be worked to a depth of 1,100 feet by tunnels, thus avoiding hoisting and pumping, which are large items in mining expense. At the present time it is the intention of the company to work the ores above the Boulder-Shannon level, which is 300 feet below the apex of the mountain. All the workings above this level are connected with it so that the ore can be dropped to it. From the mouth of the tunnel the ore will be trammed 600 feet to the head of the incline, where it is dropped 1,400 feet to the railroad and hauled eight miles to the smelter on the San Francisco river at Clifton. Here the company owns a large tract of land most suitably located for reduction works and other purposes, which they have connected with the railroad from the mine with three miles of railroad (including side tracks), giving ample facilities for handling a large tonnage. The smelter site is so located that the ore can be handled entirely by gravity and at a minimum cost. Two 250-ton water jacket furnaces are now being installed and will be in operation shortly after January 1, 1902. Plans are being made for a 500-ton concentrator and a converter plant, on which it is hoped work will be commenced at an early date.
